

violations to show you that we have come to call upon our fellow countrymen to watch the actions of the Government in this respect.

I have never been able to estimate the whole amount of expense that has been paid from the Treasury of the United States to sustain slavery; but others, men of sane, reflecting minds, have set down the amount at one hundred millions of dollars out of eight hundred millions, being one eighth of the whole amount of the expenses of the government, from the adoption of the Constitution down to 1840. That is the amount to which we have been involved according to their estimates. I cannot vouch for its accuracy, although I know the sum to be vast in its amount. Under these circumstances many individuals of all parties have felt it their duty to call the attention of the people of this nation to this abuse, an abuse which in our opinion threatens the overthrow of our liberties; and of the government itself, which hazards the union of these States, and most inevitably leads to a deep and damning disgrace throughout the earth.

As I predicted, our good (not great) Temperance Bill was lost in the Senate, only one, Mr. Emerson, voting in its favor. Many of the members of the House, who voted against it, became dissatisfied with their position before the public, and were anxious to introduce some proposition relating to the Temperance question, so that they might have the opportunity of recording their votes, as being friendly to the cause!

Large Temperance gatherings, in commemoration of the American Independence, were held at Warren, Ware, Bridgewater and Meredith Bridge. The cause of Temperance is onward in the Granite State.

Fisherville, July 16.

Miscellaneous.

PAYMENT OF DEBTS.—Particular Notice.—We occasionally solicit the payment of debts from subscribers, through our columns. Since most of our patrons are remote from us, this method, while it is more convenient to us, is less expensive to them. But whenever we, in this manner, call upon our delinquent patrons, we mean it as truly as though we addressed to each a private note, soliciting immediate attention to the liquidation of what is due us. A reference to our books shows a large amount of indebtedness to the concern, more or less protracted. What is owing us, is commonly in small sums, but it is by an aggregate of these that we are enabled to serve the public. Half of '47 is now gone, and yet many of our debts remain unpaid. We hereby respectfully and earnestly request of all indebted to us, a prompt and full payment of their accounts. Justice is on our side. Let the interest of our labor be enhanced by the reflection that we are serving none but prompt paying subscribers—none but those whose patrons are their own.

We regret to learn that Rev. E. B. Bulard, of the Malabar Mission, died suddenly at Newburgh, N.Y., on the 5th of April last, of cholera. Mr. B. was devoted and successful missionary. He was laboring at the time of his disease among the Shokara. We remember to have heard him before going far hence to the heathen, pour out the fervors of a consecrated spirit in one of the vestry meetings of the church to which we then ministered. In the vigor of health at that time, little did any one think that he was then so near his reward.

AWFUL CALAMITY ON THE NORTHERN CANAL.—Under date of July 12, a correspondent from Whitehall, writes that "a catastrophe occurred yesterday at Fort Edward. During a thunder storm a number of boats had taken shelter in a grocery store, near the lock, when the lightning struck the store, and killed five men and wounded a number more. How sudden to be arrested by the hand of the Almighty, and that, too, in the very act of transgressing his laws and disregarding his holy Sabbath! O that it might be a warning to hundreds who are constantly desecrating God's holy day upon these polluted canals. Two of the men who were killed were carried through this place to-day, to places as North where they resided, and one of them, I learn, to a wife and children who are left to suffer under this sudden and sore visitation."

A NEW VESTRY HYMN BOOK.—A hymn book adapted to all the purposes of vestry and conference meetings, has long been felt to be a great desideratum by those on whom the responsibility of conducting these meetings has devolved, and many papers and numbers of churches have expressed the wish that such a work might be prepared. We are happy to inform our readers that a hymn book of the above character, designed for general use, is now in the course of publication, by Mr. John Putnam, 81 Cornhill, edited by a respected brother in the ministry, who is highly qualified for the work. We are requested to say that the publisher would gratefully receive contributions in original or selected hymns adapted to the object.

MR. NEWMAN IN ROME.—An English gentleman resident in Rome, wrote to a friend in London: "Mr. Newman is regarded by the Romans as mad. He complains that neither pope nor cardinals do their duty, and insists that the Inquisition must be restored. The only sermon he preached here was so violent a tirade against the Protestant Church that even the Romans were disgusted, and the Pope in consequence has forbidden his preaching again."

THE OTTUMBA TRAGEDY.—Just after our last paper had gone to press, we received, from a much respected pastor and correspondent, a thrilling account of a tragedy in the city of Ottumba, three months old, which was found lifeless, on the second Sabbath of the present month, in a bay near Ottumba, where, at the same place, it is said, that the body of the person who set her husband's house on fire, was found.

REPRODUCTION OF THE BAPTIST LIBRARY.—We are glad to witness the progress and completion of this noble collection of standard Bibles, 10 of which July and August will finish the series, No. 10, of which we have received. Published by L. Colby & Co.

KEEPING UP APPEARANCES.—A Tale for the Rich and Poor, by T. S. Arthur. New York: Baker & Scribner. Boston: Gould, Kendall & Lincoln. The lessons taught by the life and pictures of the poor, are highly salutary. It must operate as a successful antidote for the false and ruinous pride of endeavoring, without adequate means, to keep up appearances. It is a tale of life, sketched by the hand of a master.

MEMOIR OF M'CHENEY.—Mr. Carter has published a cheap and useful publication, two little volumes. The first, by Mrs. M'Chene, contains a family and intimate portrait of the illustrious man, and the second, by Mr. M'Chene, contains a family and intimate portrait of the illustrious man, and the second, by Mr. M'Chene, contains a family and intimate portrait of the illustrious man.

DIARY OF REV. SOLOMON SETTLE.—Second edition. We predicted that the Diary of this Rev. gentleman would operate as an effective tobacco extirpator; our prediction is verified. The keen ridicule of the work has not been without its effect on the tribe of tobacco smokers. A second edition has been called for, and has been issued by W. S. Dime, 111 Cornhill.

LITTLE'S LIVING AGE.—This periodical publication continues to win its way into public favor. It has already reached its thirteenth volume, and

THE CHINKIN CONVENTION.—The Convention now notified to meet at Chicago for the improvement of Western navigation, passed off with great interest to the numerous delegation, comprising a large company of editors who were present, and to the public generally. Hon. Edward Bates, of Missouri, was chosen President, assisted by a number of Vice-Presidents. Letters were received from Hon. Daniel Webster, Hon. Henry Clay, Ex-President Van Buren, Hon. Lewis Cass, and others. The Convention was in session upwards of two days, during which time it set forth a basis of sentiment and of action. Several able and eloquent addresses were delivered. Among the speakers, we notice the well-known name of Hon. Thomas Corwin, of Ohio.

CRISIS IN NEW BRUNSWICK.—We see it stated that severe riots occurred, on the 12th instant, in Fredericton, St. John, and Woodstock, between the Orangemen and Ribbonmen. Several lives were lost, and a number of persons were severely injured. The riots are said to have been occasioned by the attempts of the Ribbonmen to prevent the celebration of the battle of Boyne by the Orangemen.

MAN KILLED.—On Thursday last, at Middleboro', a man named Patrick Moran, during a drunken fight, was struck on the head, from the effects of which he died in 12 hours after. The man who struck the blow has fled.

NEW YORK MARKETS.—On Monday, a fair business was done in Flour at $5.25 per barrel. Sales of 30,000 bushels of corn were made at 35 cts. per bushel for mixed, and 35 & 64 cts. for round.

REV. D. L. BRAYTON AND MRS. BRAYTON. of the Tatoy Mission, arrived at this port on Tuesday last.

THE DUBLIN (IRELAND) EVENING POST. says, "we have learned that there are at present upward of two millions nine hundred thousand persons receiving rations, at the public expense, under the Poor Law relief system now in operation in this country."

Nearly $300,000 in specie has been entered at the Custom House, as imported by the British.

Joseph C. Neal, editor of the Saturday Gazette, died suddenly, at his residence in Philadelphia, on Sunday morning.

Hon. Seth Sprague, senior, formerly a member of the State Senate, died at his residence, in Duxbury, on the 9th inst.

Hon. Abbott Lawrence, has given $1000 to the Franklin Library Association, in the new town of Lawrence.

Can any one inform us of the residence of Gilbert A. Tolman, late of Kennebunk, N.Y.? He is indebted to us for two and a half years' subscription, and the Post Master informs us that he has removed to Paris, France.

Can any one inform us of the residence of Rev. Peter Colgrove, late of Mead's Creek, N.Y.?

Editors' Table.

LIFE, RELIGIOUS OPINIONS AND EXPERIENCE, of Madame Guyon, by Thomas C. Upham. N. York: Harper & Brothers. Boston: Binney & Othman. Professor Upham has endeavored in these volumes, the most complete record ever published of the truly remarkable Madame Guyon. To effect this, he appears to have drawn upon whatever resources were open to historical inquiry. The work is read additionally interesting and valuable, as developing the personal history and religious opinions of Fenelon. These are here brought to view as the result, more especially, of his acquaintance with Madame G., the similarity of their sentiments and aims, and the common sufficiency to which in consequence of cherishing these they were appointed. We are sure, that while a just evangelical discrimination will be needed in the perusal of these volumes, their appearance will greatly gratify the Christian public, and specially all lovers of a self-sacrificing and ardent piety.

NOTES ON THE PARABLES OF OUR LORD, by Richard Chenevix Trench, A. M. N. York: Appleton & Co. Boston: Crocker & Brewster. This handsome volume embodies an expanded comment on some of the most interesting and important lessons of the New Testament, the parables of Jesus. The author, though at times he evinces somewhat the tenets peculiar to an Episcopalian, treats these tenets of Divine truth in a manner that combines much learning, earnestness and piety. The work breathes a grateful reception in England, and will prove an acceptable American offering.

SABBATH SCHOOL BOOKS.—The American Sunday School Union, has added to the numerous list of its excellent and useful publications, two little works. The first, by Mrs. L. E. B. BROTHERS, is the title of one; the other treats of the Dava of Modern Civilization, containing sketches of the social condition of Europe, from the 12th to the 16th centuries. We are glad to see a successful attempt to embody for the instruction of the scholars in our Sabbath schools, a portion of history so deserving their attention.

CHARLES LINN: or, How to Observe the Golden Rule; with other Stories, by Emily Chubbuck. New York: L. Colby & Co. Boston: Gould, Kendall & Lincoln. The charm of style and interest pervading the other productions of Mrs. Judson, will at once commend this little work to public favor. It is a tale of life, sketched by the hand of a master, and leaves on the large number who will read it, impressions not more vivid than salutary.

REPRODUCTION OF THE BAPTIST LIBRARY.—We are glad to witness the progress and completion of this noble collection of standard Bibles, 10 of which July and August will finish the series, No. 10, of which we have received. Published by L. Colby & Co.

KEEPING UP APPEARANCES.—A Tale for the Rich and Poor, by T. S. Arthur. New York: Baker & Scribner. Boston: Gould, Kendall & Lincoln. The lessons taught by the life and pictures of the poor, are highly salutary. It must operate as a successful antidote for the false and ruinous pride of endeavoring, without adequate means, to keep up appearances. It is a tale of life, sketched by the hand of a master.

MEMOIR OF M'CHENEY.—Mr. Carter has published a cheap and useful publication, two little volumes. The first, by Mrs. M'Chene, contains a family and intimate portrait of the illustrious man, and the second, by Mr. M'Chene, contains a family and intimate portrait of the illustrious man.

DIARY OF REV. SOLOMON SETTLE.—Second edition. We predicted that the Diary of this Rev. gentleman would operate as an effective tobacco extirpator; our prediction is verified. The keen ridicule of the work has not been without its effect on the tribe of tobacco smokers. A second edition has been called for, and has been issued by W. S. Dime, 111 Cornhill.

LITTLE'S LIVING AGE.—This periodical publication continues to win its way into public favor. It has already reached its thirteenth volume, and each number gives wanted assurance of a feast to the reader. The Living Age is truly what its title imports—a weekly panoramic exhibition of the times we live in, with the best selections from the solid and sprightly current literature of the old world and the new. E. Little & Co., 165 Tremont St.

General Intelligence.

Arrival of the Steamship Britannia. By the arrival of the Britannia at this port, on Saturday last, we have fifteen days later advice from Europe. The crops in England and on the continent promise a fair average or more. Flour continues to fall. The opinion is expressed that some weeks hence, the prices of breadstuffs may rally, as the prospect is the supply may then be more liberal than at present.

In reference to the potato disease, there appears to be some diversity of opinion. In some sections of the country, the crop is represented as very promising, while in other parts the disease is said to be prevailing; and the opinion has been expressed by Lord John Russell, in Parliament, that the potato crop in Ireland, at least, would be a total failure this year. The wheat and barley crops are backward, but generally very promising.

Trade has somewhat improved. Money is more easily obtained on good paper; the cotton market has been more active than for some time; and there is more buoyancy in the market generally. The very promising state of the crops on the Continent, has done much to encourage this feeling in England.

GERMANY.—Emigration to America, on a large scale, is still going on. The United States get the majority of the emigrants, and nearly all the emigrants are said to be well satisfied with this emigration market. The Governments are beginning to be alarmed at it.

PORTUGAL.—A letter from Lisbon, June 15th, states that the civil war in that country has happily effected with regard to one half of the kingdom. The Chinese—The Oriental mail from India has brought the intelligence of two serious conflicts in the Chinese Sea—the one between the English and the Chinese, the other between the English and the Chinese, the other between the English and the Chinese.

The alleged cause for these acts is said to have been to obtain redress for petty injuries and insults to residents abroad. After disabling 570 guns, the Chinese were brought to submission, and the matter to break a truce with the Chinese or Mexicans. They can be overcome without much difficulty.

Great alarm prevailed at Canton by the last accounts, and the merchants were removing their property, under the apprehension of violence from the Chinese.

From Mexico.

The following was received by telegraph, at the office of the Bee, on Thursday—

By an arrival at New Orleans, dates from the city of Mexico to the 19th of June, have been received. The American prisoners, Gaines, Gay, Borland, and others, had been released, and ordered to be conducted to Tampico under a heavy escort. It is reported that more than fifty miles from Tampico, by Gen. Ureña, who again retained them prisoner. It was further reported that Gen. Ureña would attack Tampico with a large force.

San Anna was raising one million dollars by a forced loan. The money was being collected at the point of the bayonet. All accounts report that active measures had been taken to fortify the approaches to the capital.

No tidings had been received from Gen. Scott except that he had abandoned Jalapa, which was in possession of the guerrillas.

Gen. Perry had been wounded at Vera Cruz. He had found the river impassable, and had marched from the mouth of the river to the town. The enemy fled after the first round. Four Americans were wounded, among them Lieut. May, who lost an arm.

From Santa Fe.—Dates from Santa Fe to the 27th of May have been received via St. Louis. We have accounts of engagements between 70 men under Major Edmonston and 400 Mexicans and Indians. The action took place 150 miles southeast of Santa Fe. The Americans retreated, with the loss of two hundred men and wounded. The Americans also lost all their horses.

A government train, under Captain Bell, had been captured by a party of Indians. The Indians captured 150 cattle.

Col. W. H. Russell, a bearer of dispatches from Col. Fremont had reached St. Louis.

The New York Herald, under date of June 1st, mentions that the cause of the disaster to Major Edmonston was that the attack was made in an unfavorable position for his troops. He was compelled to retreat, and was killed.

United States brig Hecla and schooner Flirt were blockading the harbor of Soto in Marina on the 27th ult.

LATER FROM MEXICO.—The steamship Alabama arrived at an early hour yesterday from Vera Cruz, bringing the latest news from that city. On the 24th of July, and the latter on the 4th. By this arrival we have direct advice from Mexico to the morning of the 29th of June, and from Puebla to the 20th.

Gen. Scott had not then been able to leave Puebla. He was awaiting the reinforcements under Gen. Cadwalader and Gen. Philip Kearney, who were then arrived. The news from the city of Mexico is very indefinite.

The conduct of the press existing in Mexico prevents us from knowing what measures to defend the city will be taken. It is said that every avenue of entrance into the city is fortified, but the writer in Mexico, upon whom we rely, says that the American army will easily overcome all such obstacles—that the defense of their fortifications will only embarrass the Mexicans.

By this arrival we have direct advice from Gen. Perry's second expedition against Tobacco. This time he was entirely successful. Com. Perry's force consisted of eleven hundred seamen and marines and ten field pieces.

The town was taken on the 16th of June. The expedition anchored in a very sharp turn of the river called the Devil's Bend, and was fired into from an ambush.

The forces which defend the town yielded to the guns of the fleet, before the land expedition could get into action. The enemy stood but one discharge of artillery. Lieut. May, it is said, had his arm broken, and one other officer was wounded.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

The capture of the city of Vera Cruz, was a very important event. It was a great victory for the American army, and it was a great blow to the Mexican cause.

THE MARKETS.—The Ploughman says that vegetables of all kinds are now plenty enough in market, and prices are as low as any gardener desires. Flour and grain are so low that bakers and boarding houses must change their tune. Hay has risen a trifle this week, because farmers are too busy to bring it to market. It will be quite low enough in two or three weeks, and farmers in Maine will do well to keep their hay for their own stock.

PROSPECTS OF FARMERS.—The Ploughman says that those who raise grain in July, will not be pleased with the fall in prices. Wages are high compared with the prospects of the season; but we likely to have an abundance of good things, and farmers must not complain. How would hired men like to receive their wages in farm produce?

Grain may possibly be an empty barrel another winter as it has ever been. The late continued warm weather has given to cultivated crops an uncommon growth. Corn in particular shows its gratifying in deep green, potatoes look healthy, and we have not heard of any injury from blight. All the small grains appear well, and garden vegetables never looked more healthy.

Hay must be abundant in all parts of the country, as we yet hear no complaints of a serious drought, though it has been rather more than usual in the neighborhood of Albany. Stock will therefore command good prices, and prices of all kinds will be higher than grain. Most of the men who eat but little meat in hot weather. Bread, and butter, and other articles, will be cheaper than in winter, and more than any kind of animal food. Yet sudden and violent changes are not prudent, and people who would abstain from meats should change gradually.

PRICES OF LEAVES.—We learn that a loaf of bread, of fine quality, was sold at the rate of 10 cts. New York fair. Prices only 12-13 cts. Weights 4 lbs. Weight down 5 Boston loaves, such as are sold in New York, are said to be 12-13 cts. A loaf was brought down by a baker's shop in New York, by a member of our Common Council, who brought it on yesterday, and placed it at the disposal of the public. It was a loaf of the finest quality, and it was brought down by a baker's shop in New York, by a member of our Common Council, who brought it on yesterday, and placed it at the disposal of the public.

MONEY FOUND IN THE CASTLE.—For one of the discoverers of a bag containing a large quantity of dollars, concealed in a secret place in the Castle of St. Juan de Ulloa. As the terms of capitulation make no reference to the restoration of hidden treasure, we presume the money will be retained by the lawful possessor.

THE LOCUSTS.—These strange creatures have appeared in immense numbers in the western part of North Carolina, in the counties of Henderson, Rutherford, McDowell, and others adjacent. They swarmed the same part of the State seventeen years ago.

LARGE ROBBERY IN SPRINGFIELD.—News has been received by Constable Clapp, that the jewelry store of W. A. Hyde, of Springfield, was broken into on Thursday evening, August 2nd, by a party of thieves, who carried off a large quantity of watches, gold and silver jewelry, to the amount of $3000, stolen.

HAIL STORM.—A severe storm occurred at Woodbury, N.J., on Tuesday last, during which the hail destroyed great quantities of the corn, striping it of all the blades. The Constitution says it fell in such quantities that it was gathered to make ice cream with some of the ladies.

CONNECTICUT AND PASSENGER RAILROAD.—The Vt. Chronicle says, a fine map and plan of the proposed railroad, from New Britain to New York, has been published, with a descriptive sketch of the route, its prospects, &c. A liberal charter, allowing an income of at least twelve per cent.—passing through one of the richest agricultural districts of New England, and the finest part of the Connecticut River Valley above Greenfield,—with rich soil, and a water power, and a fine view of the mountains, and a fine view of the mountains, and a fine view of the mountains.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Traveller informs us that Daniel Webster Woodman, aged about 35 years, was instantly killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

DEADLY ACCIDENT.—The Courier says a man named Daniel Bixby, from Manchester, a horse on the 1st inst. was killed by the steam locomotive train, near Brighton depot, on Wednesday afternoon, the 1st inst. The deceased was on his way to New York, and was carrying a large quantity of goods.

CROPS IN VERMONT.—The Burlington Free Press says, "we are gratified to learn, as we do from all quarters, that every thing looks finely for a bumper crop of grain, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer, and that the season is in every respect a favorable one for the farmer."

